

Kristen Stoecker

Junior Associate

Kristen Stoecker graduated from Manhattan College, where she obtained a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering. She graduated with honors and received minors in both Physics and Mathematics. Her interest in the acoustics field was fueled by her passions for engineering, physics, and music. Kristen enjoys using her mind to solve problems, and readily accepts any challenge.

In addition to her engineering skills, Kristen is an avid alto saxophone player who performed with the Manhattan College Jazz Ensemble and Pep Band.
